A diagram of a stepped shaft with a vertical axis of symmetry labeled A-A. The shaft has a vertical section on the left and a horizontal section on the right. The vertical section has a circular cross-section at the top, a rectangular section in the middle, and a circular cross-section at the bottom. The horizontal section has a circular cross-section at the left end, a rectangular section in the middle, and a circular cross-section at the right end. The axis of symmetry A-A is indicated by a vertical line with arrows at both ends.
